

Canadian Association for Baptist Freedoms
2021 Annual General Meeting

Report of the Website Committee

The Website Committee is responsible for the CABF Website and the CABF Facebook Page.

Website - <https://www.c-abf.ca/>

During 2021 your Webmaster has updated the website with the latest information about the life and work of the CABF. This has included a link to the latest edition of the CABF Bulletin, links to our official documents and Council Minutes and occasional news items. There is a separate Menu tab for Accreditation policies and announcements.

With frequent changes due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the website attempted to publish the latest information on our meetings, like the Rushton Lecture and Luncheon and the Annual General Meeting and Assembly. We have also included news on the Gathering of Baptists.

The website continues to have links to CanadaHelps.org (where you can safely make charitable contributions to the CABF), to our Facebook page and to our member congregations. The Links tab on the main menu opens a page with links to many associated organizations, ecumenical groups, news agencies and useful publications.

Kevin Estey (Kevin Estey Design - <https://www.kevinestey.ca/>) has maintained the design and operation of our website for a very reasonable fee. Thank you, Kevin!

Rev. John Boyd and Rev. Jenny Eisener have been managing the Facebook page. The Facebook Page enables us to post news of the activities of our Churches and ecumenical partners in an interactive, social media format. Currently 117 (+11%) people have “liked” the page, and receive CABF posts in their News Feeds, and 124 (+10%) people “follow” the page (seeing some posts).

We regularly post news from our Churches (when informed), “share” their posts and promote CABF events. We also share posts from similar or affiliated groups that we think might interest our followers. If you are on Facebook, please “Like” our Page so that our posts will appear in your News Feed, and the more you “like” and “comment” on our posts, the greater the reach of CABF on this social media platform!

We are always interested in your suggestions for inclusion on the CABF website or the CABF Facebook page.

Respectfully submitted,

Rev. John E. Boyd, Chair and Webmaster
Rev. Jenny Eisener, Facebook Manager
